2019 6'1 G Levi Bentsen (Willowbrook HS, IL)

Update: the sharpshooting Bentsen visited Luther College (D3) recently and left the coaching staff impressed.

2019 6' PG Josh Berry (Lyons Township HS, IL)

Update: the high-academic Berry had an opportunity to compete in front of multiple high-academic school this past week, and he certainly seized it. He has become a priority for Massachusetts Institute of Technology (D3), New York University (D3), Haverford (D3), Macalester (D3), Carnegie Mellon (D3), and others with his tenacious style of play.

2019 6' PG JR Cison (Lake Zurich HS, IL)

Update: Cison tore up the UA Challenge down in Atlanta, averaging 14 PPG and shooting an absurd 56.1% from the field. Head Coaches from Elon University (D1) and Loyola University MD (D1) watched Cison intently throughout the weekend. Benedictine University (D2) and Idaho State (D1) are also in active pursuit.

2019 6'7 F Billy Connors (Plainfield North HS, IL)

Update: Connors, who will make his summer live period debut this upcoming week at the NY2LA Summer Jam with Chicago Lockdown 17U Kmiec, will be a highly-coveted prospect for D3 and scholarship-level programs alike. North Central College (D3) is already recruiting Connors hard.

2019 6'4 G Michael Cruger (Aurora Christian HS, IL)

Update: Cruger, who has shot the ball extremely well from beyond the arc throughout the spring and early summer, is in contact with the coaches at Concordia University WI (D3) after a strong first live period.

2019 6'2 PG RayJ Dennis (Oswego East HS, IL)

Update: Dennis was, according to a few college coaches who watched him, "the best player on the court" at the Adidas Gauntlet event in New York. Florida Atlantic (D1), Wright State (D1), and UW-Milwaukee (D1) extended scholarship offers after the event, and he has also been offered an opportunity to play for the Holy Cross (D1) basketball team.

2019 6'2 G Justin Eagins (Downers Grove South HS, IL)

Update: Eagins, who is a strong student with a 1380 SAT score, was one of our top performers during the first live period, shooting the ball exceptionally well from three and showcasing his toughness in several tight games. North Dakota State (D1), Central Missouri (D2) and Wayne State College (D2) are all high on him in the immediate aftermath of the weekend.

2019 6'5 G William Engels (Benet Academy, IL)

Update: After a weekend spent competing down in Atlanta at the UA Challenge, Engels has heard from multiple interested D2 programs along with the Naval Academy (D1).

2019 6'6 F Kross Garth (Geneva HS, IL)

Update: The consistent feedback from college coaches throughout the weekend was that the long and athletic Garth was the toughest player on the court in each and every game. After averaging 8 PPG and 10 RPG at the tournament, Quincy (D2), Roosevelt (NAIA), Judson (NAIA), St. Mary's MN (D3), Illinois Wesleyan (D3), and others have already reached out.

2019 6' PG Demari Grant (Oswego East HS, IL)

Update: Grant secured his first scholarship offer this past weekend, this one courtesy of Clarke University (NAIA). Southern Illinois (D1) is also all over the lightning quick lead guard.

2019 6'5 G Mitch Mascari
(Geneva HS, IL)

Update: After a weekend in which he showcased to coaches all that he can do outside of shooting the ball, he received scholarship offers from Winona State University (D2), Northern Michigan University (D2), and Concordia St. Paul (D2). He will visit Benedictine University (D2) Tuesday.

2019 5'11 PG Jack McDonald
(Geneva HS, IL)

Update: McDonald, who received a scholarship offer from St. Cloud State University (D2) a few weeks back, has also become a top target for new D2 program Benedictine University. He has also heard from Hillsdale (D2), Rockhurst (D2), Quincy (D2), Augustana (D3), UW-Oshkosh (D3), and Lawrence (D3) during or after the event.

2019 6'3 PG Isaac Nelson
(West Chicago HS, IL)

Update: Nelson asserted himself as a terrific college prospect with his play at the NY2LA Next Level Invitational, and as of one day after the event, Illinois College (D3), North Central College (D3), St. Norbert College (D3), and Benedictine University (D2) have expressed strong interest in the athletic floor general.

2020 6'8 G Aidan Rolf's
(Redmond HS, WA)

Update: While playing up with the Elite 17 Prep team out in Anaheim, Rolf's caught the eye of coaches at Seattle University (D1). He has also heard from Holy Cross (D1), Stanford (D1), Northern IL (D1), and Princeton (D1), among others.

2019 6'10 F Aidan Shore
(Sterling HS, IL)

Update: After earning a scholarship offer from Lewis University (D2) last week, Shore was a star this weekend at the NY2LA Next Level Invitational, dominating high level competition and impressing tons of coaches in the process. Western Michigan (D1), North Dakota State (D1), Western Illinois (D1), and Denver (D1) are among his newest suitors. He will visit Benedictine University (D2) Tuesday.

2019 6'3 G Ryan Verhulst
(Hersey HS, IL)

Update: Verhulst, who is one of the state's elite perimeter shooting threats, heard from Knox College (D3), Grinnell College (D3), and Hope College (D3) prior to the beginning of the first live period. Illinois Institute of Technology (D3) has also expressed interest.

2020 6'5 G Connor Webb
(Lisle HS, IL)

Update: Indiana Wesleyan University (NAIA) came out to watch Webb and his teammates play at the NY2LA Next Level Invitational this past week. The IWU staff has been in touch with Webb for the past few months.

2019 5'11 PG Jordan Wilkins
(West Chicago HS, IL)

Update: Wilkins, a quick and athletic scoring guard, posted multiple 25+ point performances for his Mercury Elite team at the NY2LA Next Level Invitational. He is on campus at Illinois College (D3) for a visit this morning, and Coach Schweer's staff has made it clear that Wilkins is a priority in the 2019 class.
